Identity	Maxwells' Esteem and Dignity Shells
What	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Humility is the centripetal force on esteem</li> <li>Humility is known by the change in esteem</li> </ul>
So What?	I am abstracting this too far from the physical body... and this field of humility has the covariance of beauty
Stakeholder	Chris, Omar, Jason

Approach: Reading about authentic relating, I am envisioning a model of esteem and dignity in 3d with humility as a force towards the soul on esteem.
centripetal

Formation:

- Humility on your esteem can be static ~~or~~ or fluid/continuous.
- What is the material of dignity?
well, the skin, of course
- "Soul of a woman created below"
- animus ↔ anima
- "Firm in beliefs" ≠ low volatility in esteem?
why?
- one woman's root is another woman's fruit
- what is perforating dignity for one may not be in another's perception

Execution:

Authentic Relating book "Conflict = Energy" has me curious about my ~~pre~~ previous thoughts on the Solidarity Index and on what it means to metabolize each others' constructed identities. Not to get locked into an identity, as this is casting a lot for the course of the interaction/transaction... though, we need to help individuals understand the nature of how we spend our time and money.

A tensile ~~esteem~~ esteem that is perceptibly flexible is not a good thing in some contexts. What I mean, is reigning in the esteem is critical ~~the~~ to adapt to the solidarity index - especially if someone has earned the micro hegemony thru merit... on time... on Ted's time.

We only know someone's humility by the change in esteem when a perturbation in the social fabric happens... how do courage and honor play with others' perception of our dignity? Because, we avoid pain and pursue pleasure... though, nuisance is critical to understand... as whips and chains can excite when innocent.

ORMs and AI

Why is it that the polymorphism of schemas in the 5th Normal Form is so fascinating to me?

2

If C was to be updated to F, A<sub>4</sub>, B<sub>4</sub>, D<sub>4</sub>, E<sub>4</sub> would need to be staged and tested to determine what their relationship to F would be before the values for C<sub>4</sub> → F<sub>4</sub> could be updated.

(Multivariate CRUD)

This epitomizes the fallacies of AI; because, the traceability required to reverse-engineer the learning back to the negligent state of the bot that influenced idiosyncratic behavior in the person who caused damage is <sup>Hypothesis?</sup> not kept in a neural network or word2vec architecture... can ORMs solve this? <sup>What do you got to say?</sup>
